

Wrap & Twist Cardigan/Jumper

The wrap and twist is a fabulous idea if you want a comfy, versatile and stylish cardigan or jumper. This year I love the DKNY cosy but its far too expensive, so I decided to make my own. Of course I didn't just make just the one but ended up with 3 versions. The first one is just like the DKNY cosy only I didn't find the front long enough to wrap it properly so I used a two way stretch and made the front much longer.

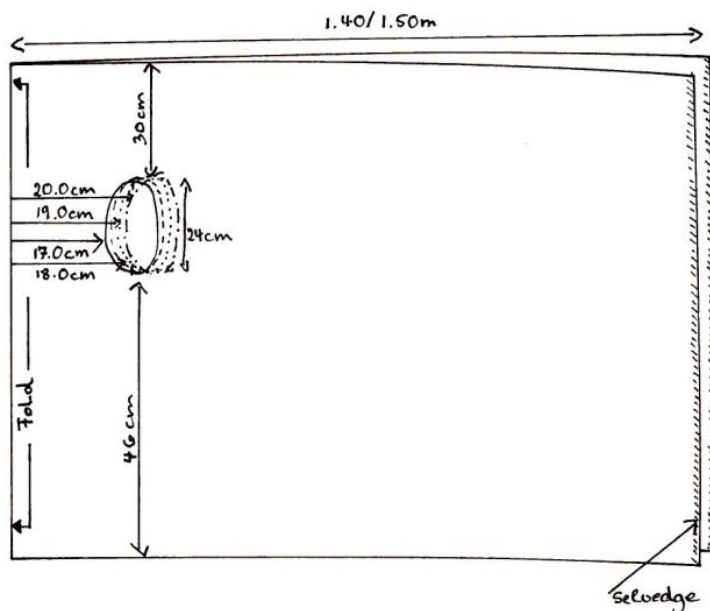

Although that was great it didn't really suit my look, which is more fitted. So I designed a third version which is fully lined (you won't need an overlocker) and also uses less fabric!

Have a look at the diagrams and watch the two video's to help you understand how it works.

The Classic Wrap & Twist

What you need:

1.70 in a lightweight one or two way stretch jersey

How to sew it:

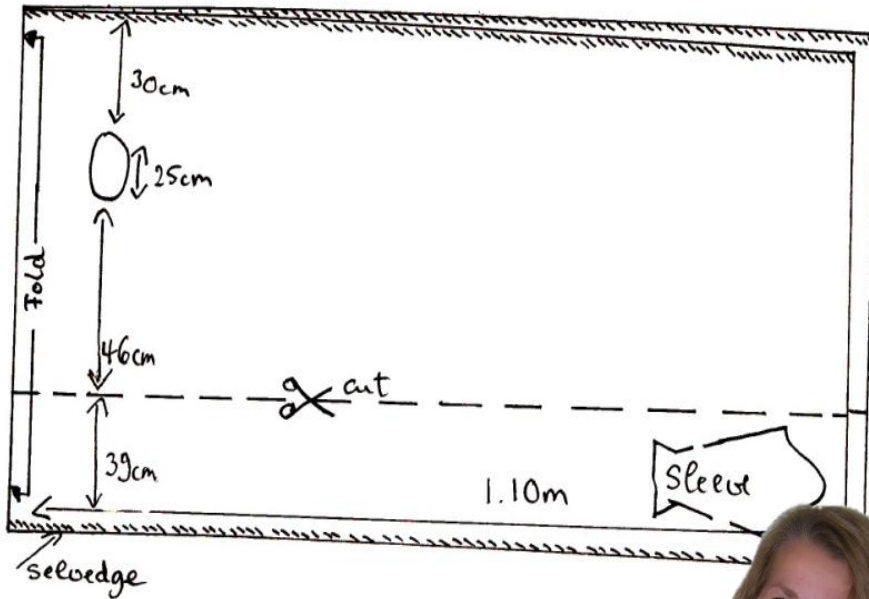

Place the armhole template in place and cut the armhole. Cut out the sleeve, close it and Overlock. Insert the sleeve and Finish off the edges.

The extra long Twist & Wrap

What you need:

2.20 m in two way stretch jersey.

How to sew:

This time fold the fabric in half with the selvedge at the top and bottom of the fabric. Trim the 39cm of the lower end and cut the two sleeves from that. The work exactly like the Classic version.

If you don't have an overlocker turn the edges in and topstitch.

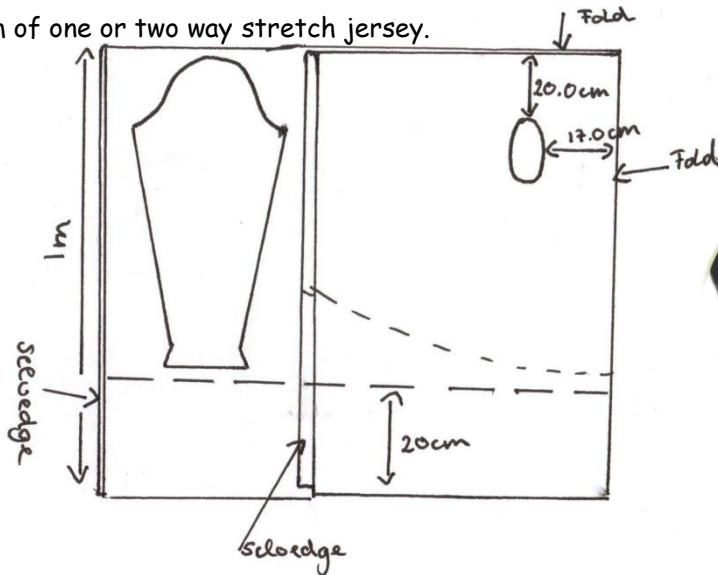

frocks & frolics

The Fitted lined Twist & Wrap

What you need:

2m of one or two way stretch jersey.

How to sew:

Now we fold fabric as shown in the diagram and The video. Cut the ties out of the rest along the selvedge and the sleeve as well.

First close and finish the sleeve and ties. Insert the ties and close the cardigan from fabric fold to fabric fold. Turn inside out and pin the armhole in place. Pin the sleeves in and sew. Overlock the armhole.

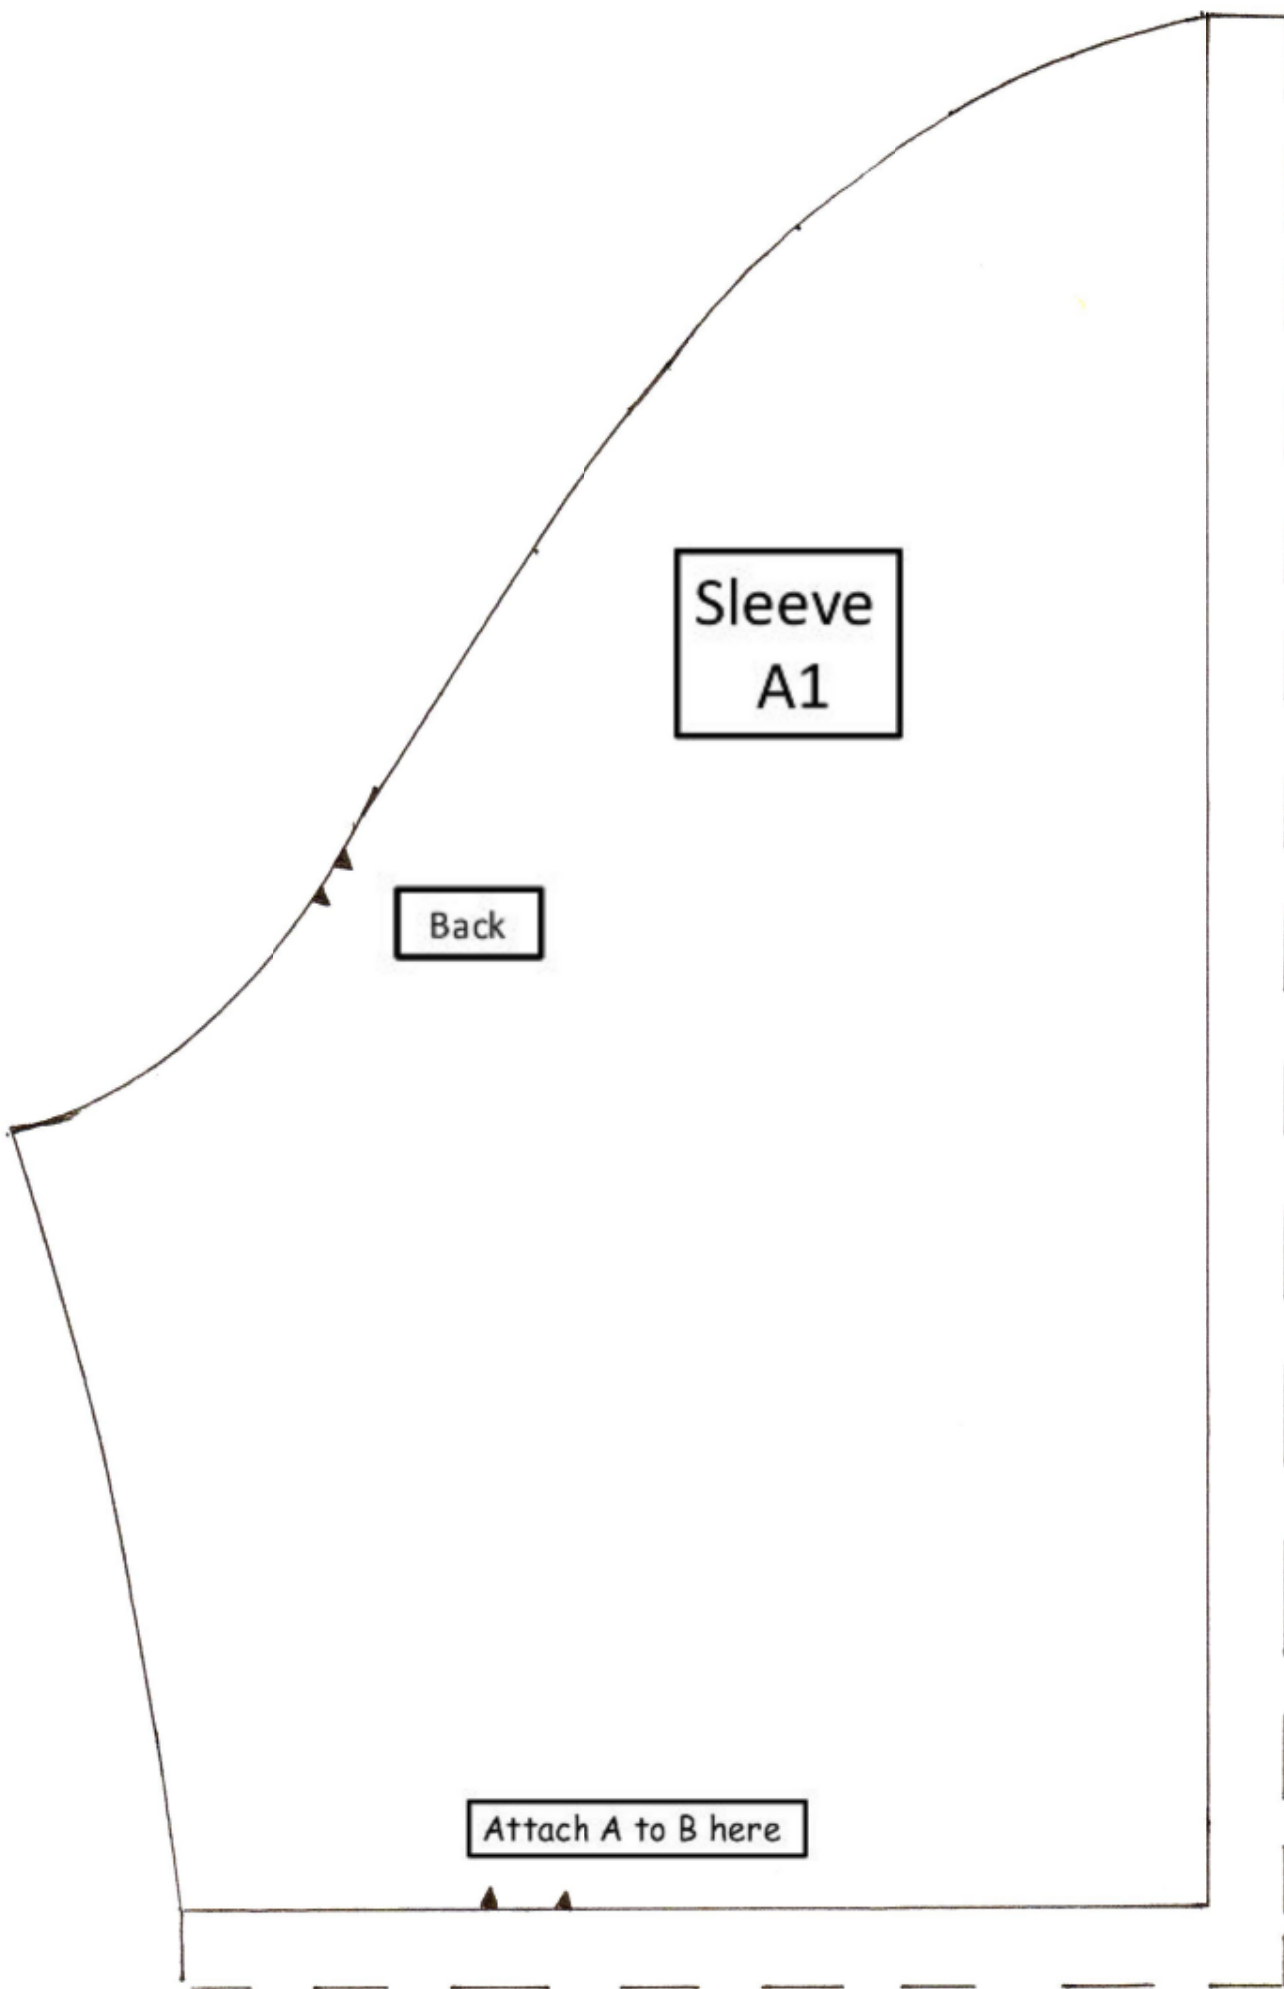

Dear sewing Enthusiast
To me this version is the best I can wear it with jeans but also with an evening dress. I needed a cardigan for the 'Sophie' wrap dress that wouldn't ruin the neckline. Now I have got one!
If you like the pattern, please share it with your friends.

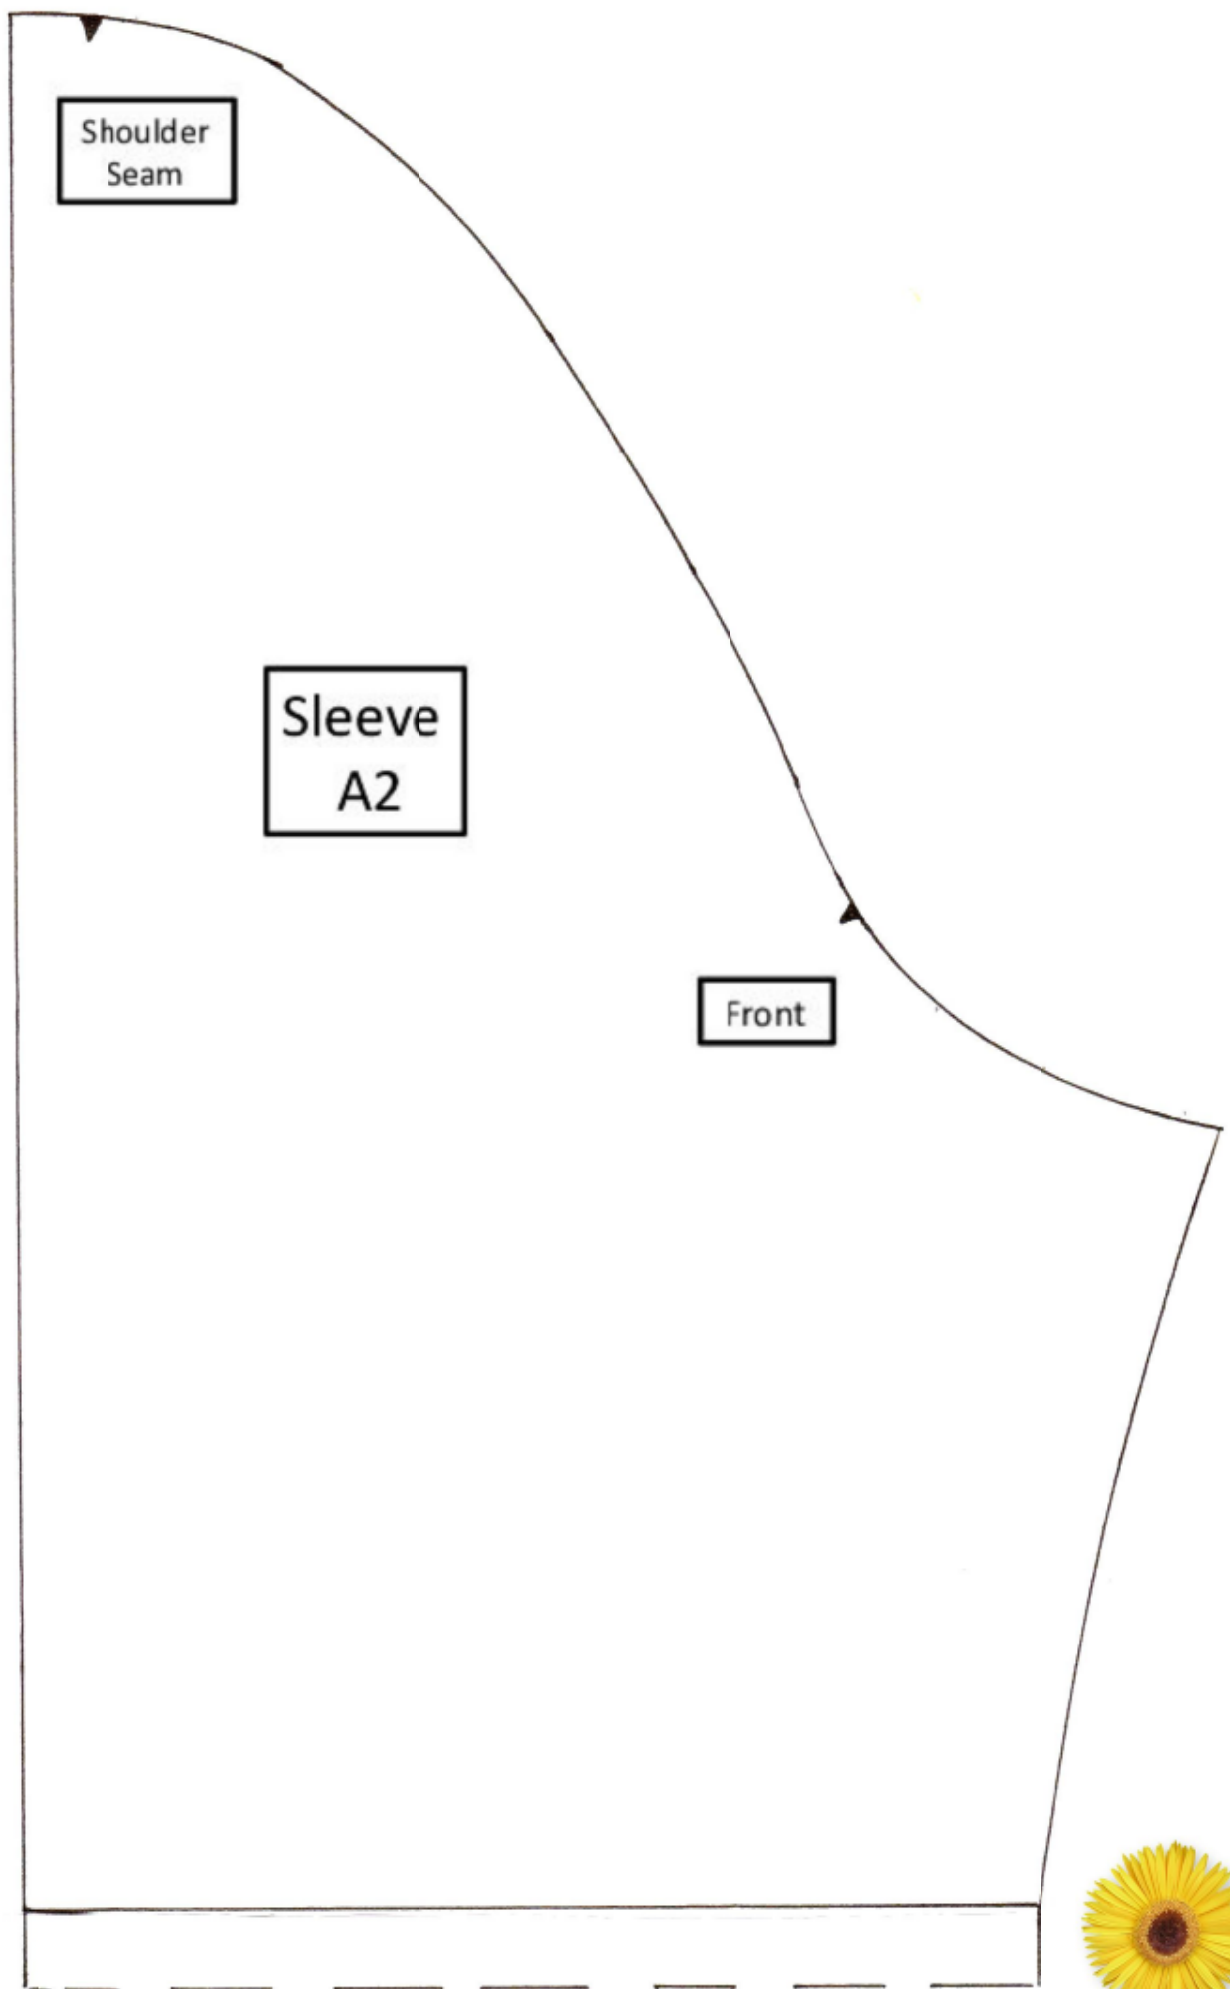

Have fun sewing
Marina

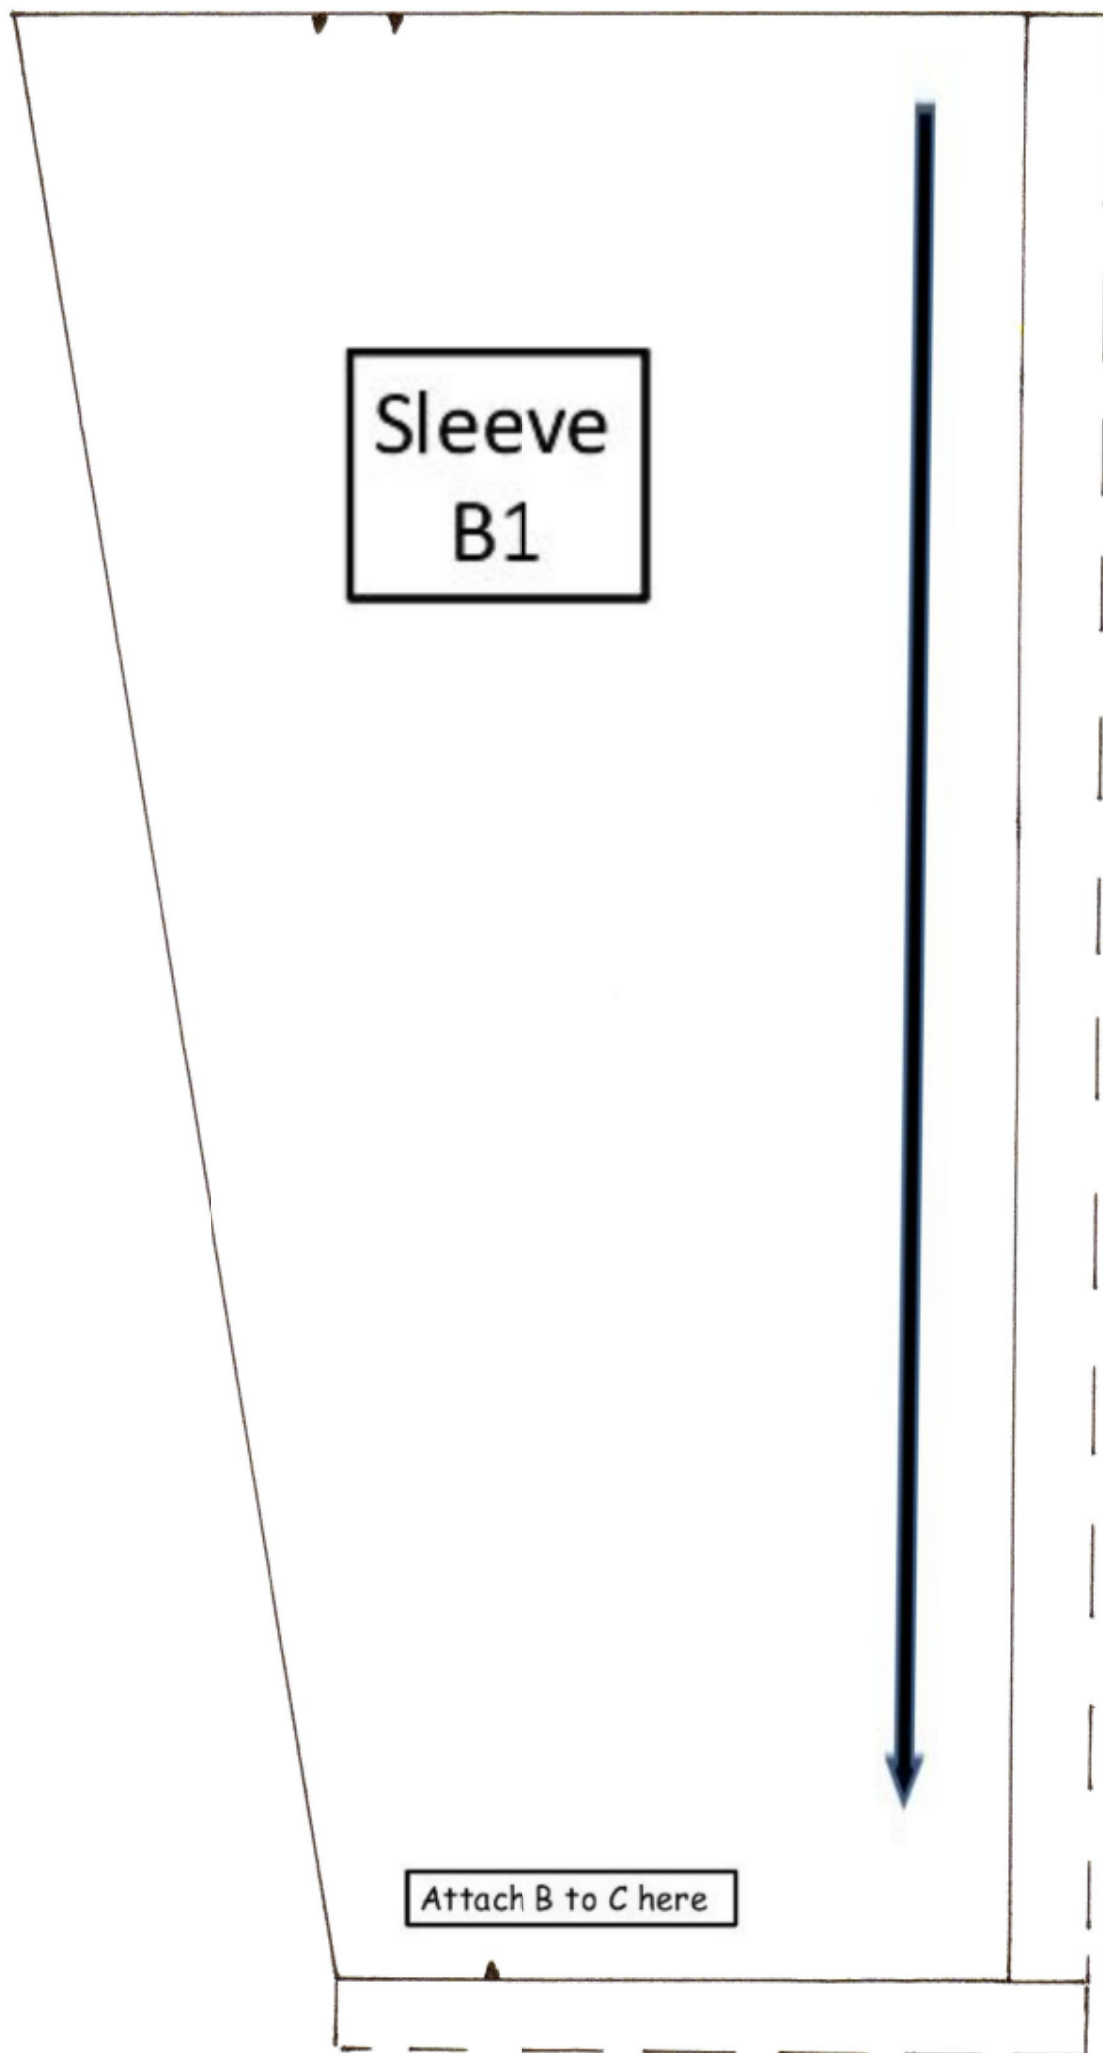

frocks of frolics

Sleeve
B2

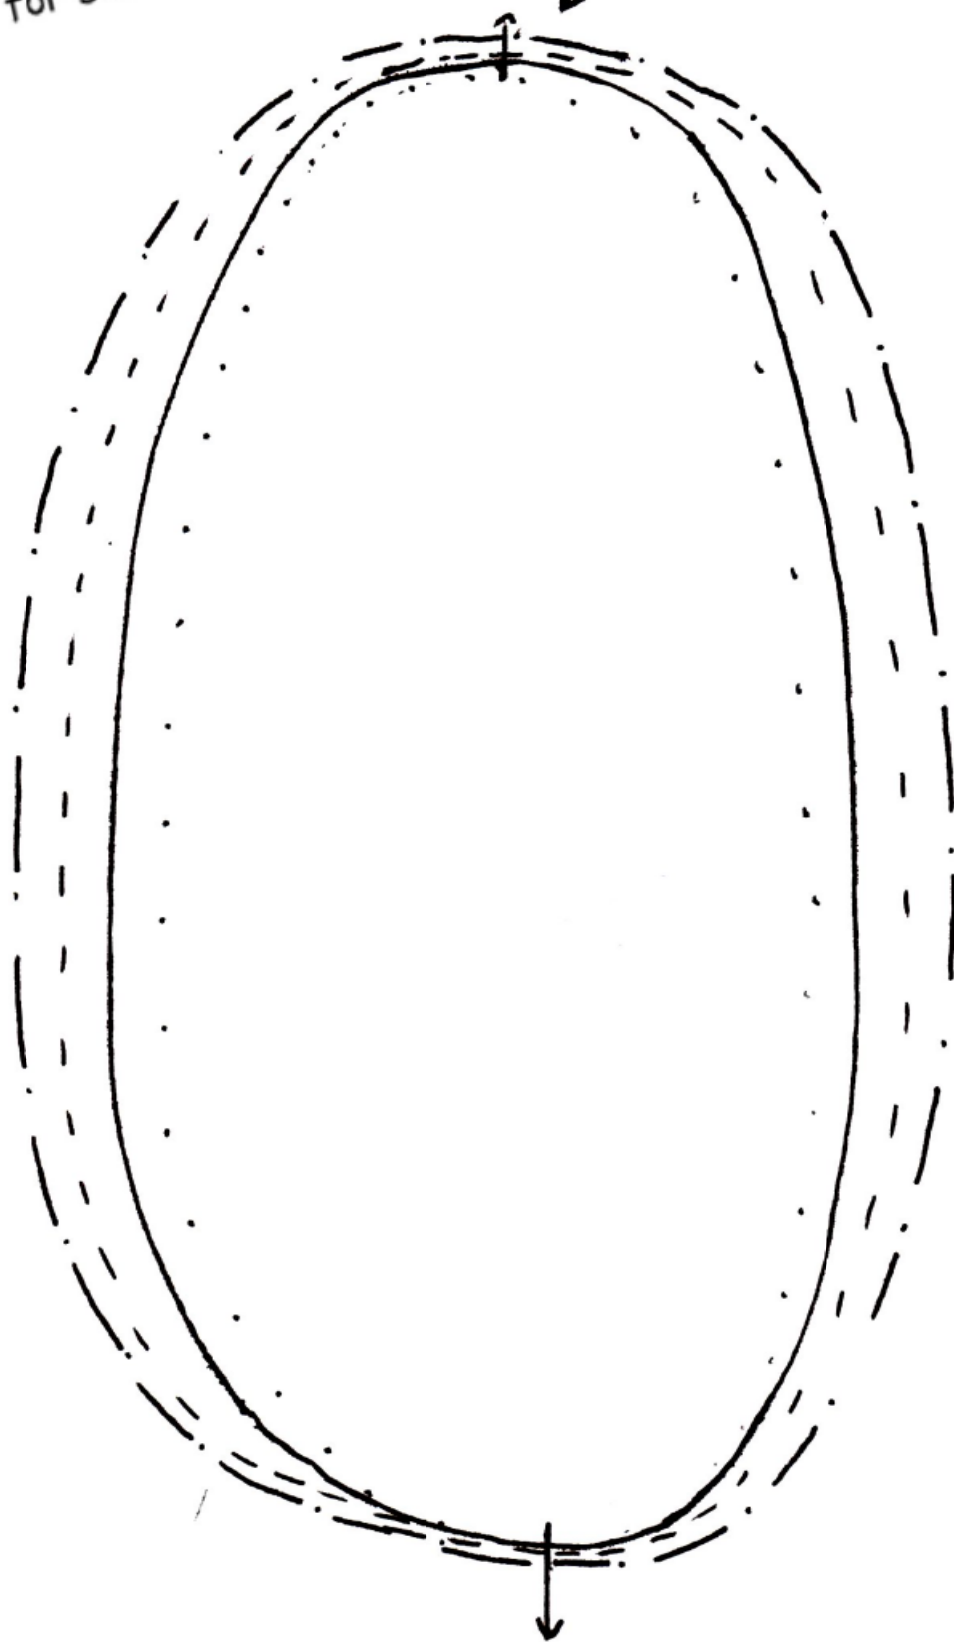

Sleeve
C

Hem
Turn up at dotted line

The Wrap & Twist Cosy Cardigan

Armhole for size
XS-L

Sleeve head

	US	UK	D
—————>	12	14	40
----->	10	12	38
—————>	8	10	36
.....>	6	8	34

Underarm