In leg length 80cm or 31 1/2", check your length before cutting out.

FABRIC SUGGESTION

stretch bengaline is perfect, or any stretch woven

TRIMS

- Elastic width 5cm or 2inches [optional]

CONSTRUCTION

1. Check stretch direction of fabric and follow the max stretch direction marked on pattern. Suitable for serger or safety stitch.
2. Lay pattern on fabric and cut, 1cm or 3/8" seams allowed
3. Sew the back and front inside legs together, (see fig 1) then stitch the back crotch seam from back waist through to the front crotch and up to the waist (see fig 2).
4. Sew the front and back outside leg seams together. (see fig 3)
5. Join side seams of the waistbands, join the elastic ends to your waist measurement, insert elastic and fold the band in half then secure the band together with a stitch around the raw edge
6. Attach the waist band to the pant, turn seam upward and top stitch with a 6mm or 1/4" in stitch
7. Stitch hem to your personal length or to noted notch on the pattern.
8. Press your finished pant

DOWNLOADABLE PATTERN TIPS

Starting Pointers

1. Print on letter or A4 size paper. Make sure you print the document in actual size. Do not scale or re-size it in any way – if you do, the pattern will not work!
2. Your pattern will print on multiple pages, which you need to match together, just like a jigsaw puzzle. I know, it takes a LONG time, but that's why we sell hardcopy patterns!
3. Locate the page that contains the "Test Square". It's probably best to print this first, to make sure the size is correct. Once printed use a ruler to measure each side of the square – it should measure 10cm or 4". If it doesn't please check your print settings and try again.

Putting your pattern together

1. Once printed you'll notice a solid red rectangle on each pattern page. This marks the edge of the individual tiles. You'll need to line these up when putting your pattern together.
2. You'll also notice some markings along each edge in a blue triangle. These tell you which pages go with which. Match "A" to "A" and "1" to "1". Letters run horizontally across the page, while numbers run vertically down the page.
3. We've also numbered all the pattern pages and included a diagram to show you how all they all fit together, in case you have trouble.
4. We suggest you cut or fold one side of the page and match it to its corresponding side ("A" to "A", "B" to "B", etc). Line up the red cut lines and the pattern pieces that span across the two pages. Once it's all lined up, tape the pieces together.
5. You'll work out what works best for you, but we find that taping a whole row together works best. Then once all rows are done, you can tape each row together to finish the pattern!
6. Once finished, you can use the taped pattern, as it is, or trace it onto your own large format paper.
