N°11

SIZE 38

MATERIALS

- » 60 cm golden cloqué
- » 100 cm grey flannel
- » 120 cm lining
- » ca. 4 m satin piping
- » 4 press studs
- » pearls, roses and other fabric flowers to embellish the jacket

HOW-TO

1. Cut jacket fabric to size. You can make the front parts of another fabric than the back parts (i.e. a luxurious one with ornaments).
2. Sew two welted pockets into the front part – read instructions here (<http://www.craftsy.com/article/sewing-welt-pockets>)
3. Embellish the fronts as you want with beautiful flowers and ribbons (you can find them on Etsy or Dawanda).
4. Sew piping onto the shoulder seams, the front and middle of arm seams. Best to use a needle feet for slide fasteners.
5. Sew in pleats in the top neckline of your back part (around 3 cm in size).
6. Close shoulder seams, close sleeves and sew them into the jacket body. Be sure to look for the connecting points on the pattern: the back part is a little wider than normal, that's why the side seam does not directly fit to the side seam (it is about 2 cm to the back). The jacket gets this blouson look through that. Advanced sewers with a good know-how in piping, may embellish the arm entries with it.

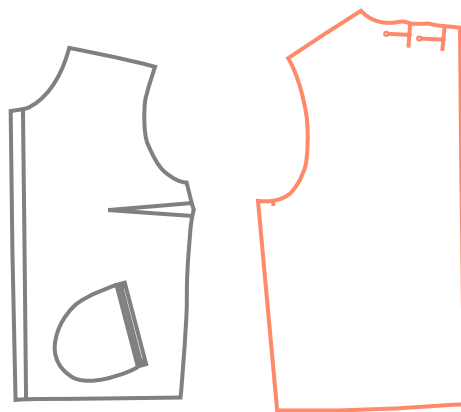

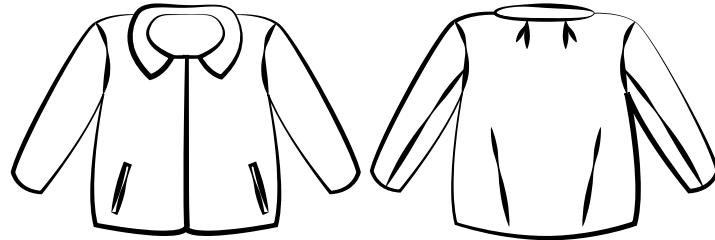

CONT.

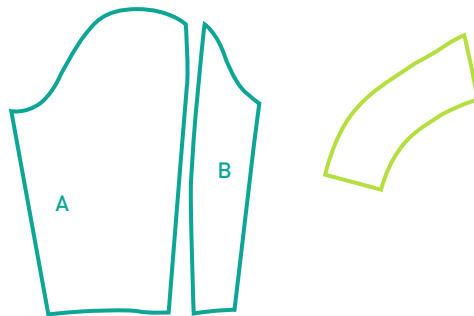

7. Make the collar and sew them into the neckline.
8. Work the lining jacket in the same way. In the back the pattern was reduced in the middle by 2-3 cm (just fold the pattern). This way the inner jacket is not as wide and it is more comfortable when wearing.
9. Line the inner jacket with the outer jacket, sew together front edges and bottom edges just until the side seams.
10. Line bottom arm edges, pin and sew them together (on the wrong side).
11. Now work the bottom edge of the back. Put in folds, so that the jacket becomes a little bulky. Turn over with the lining. Since your inner jacket is not as wide, you may not have to put in folds. Handstitch the neckline of the inner jacket.
12. Sew on press studs, you may have to punch them in.
