Sew advice

MASTER JERSEY

When cutting out your pieces, fold the fabric in half right sides together, with the selvages aligned at the centre. Lay your fabric on a sheet or blanket to stop it moving when cutting out. You can leave edges raw or finish with an overlocker if the fabric requires it.

Materials

- Printed jersey
- 20mm stretch lace trim, 5m
- Shirring elastic

Sew a night dress

We show you how!

lace-trimmed nightie

Stitch your own piece of loungewear

It's just one of life's truths that you can never have too much nightwear – and why settle for anything less than gorgeous? This sophisticated nightie is designed by Fiona Hesford, owner of crafty company Sew Girl, and features a sweet empire line that is both flattering and comfortable to wear. Add a feminine flourish with lace detail and stitch your own unique version to lounge in today!

1 Print the pattern at www.sewmag.co.uk/templates. Cut the pieces. Gather the upper front piece at the bustline between the notches.

2 Pin to the lower front piece, ease gathers up to match notches, and tack. Sew a 1cm seam. Clip the curved seam allowance.

3 With right sides together, sew the upper and lower back pieces together. Press the seams upwards.

4 Take your length of stretch lace trim and press the piece into a curve to match the front seam.

5 Take the lace trimming and sew it below the seamline on the front and back of the nightie.

6 Sew the front and back of the nightie together at the shoulder seam. Press the seams open.

7 Pin the lace trim to the right side of the neck and armhole edge, tack and sew in place. Fold the lace to the reverse side. Press.

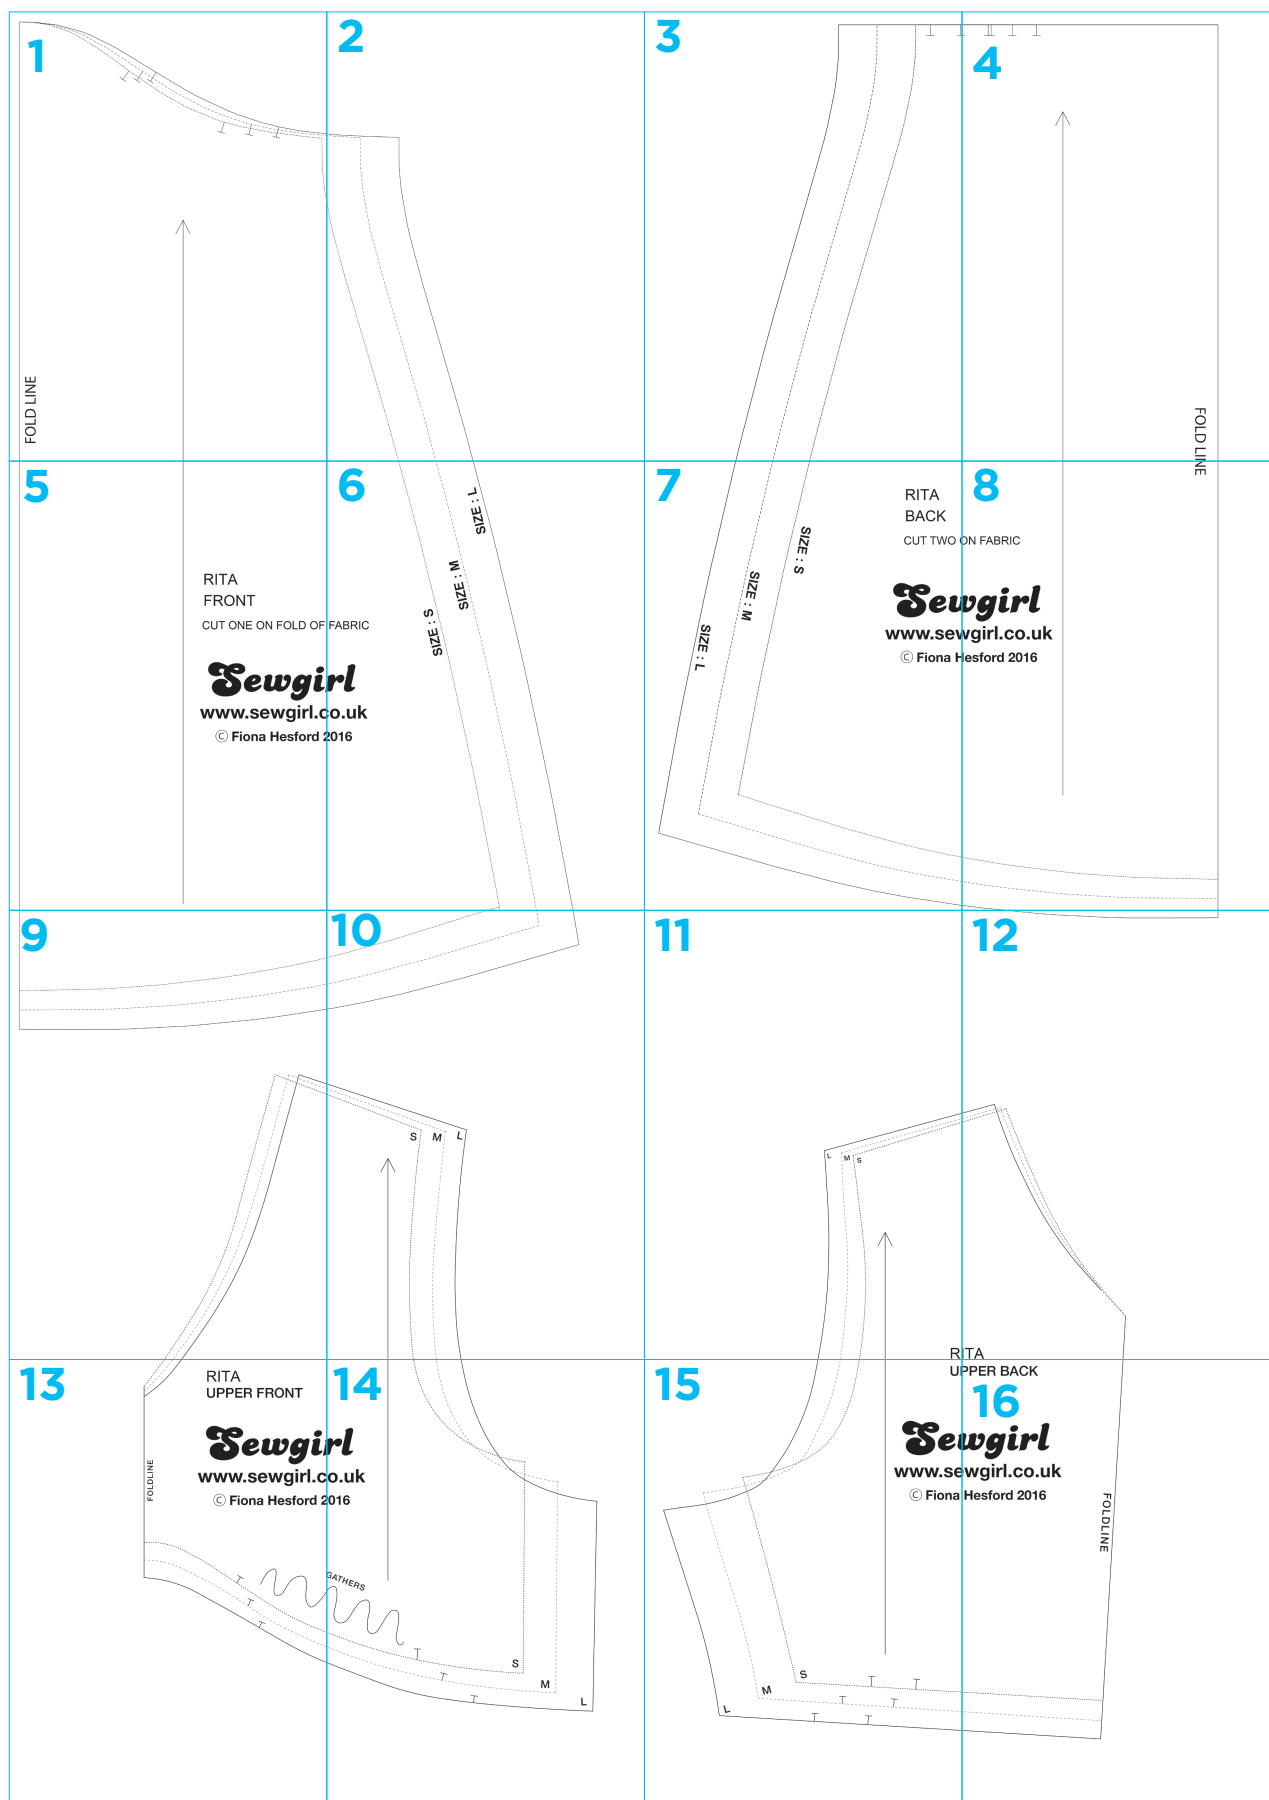

8 Topstitch on right sides, close to edge. Sew a dart at the V points of lace. Sew the back to the front at side seams, right sides together.

9 Attach lace to right of lower edge, fold to back; topstitch. Gather shoulder seams with shirring elastic. Sew with a long stitch length.
