

Knitted winter hat with faux fur trim

A knitted winter hat with faux fur trim will be the perfect accessory for the cold days ahead. The amount of fur you will need is very little, which makes this the perfect project if you have never worked with fur before. This is a super cool and adorable winter hat. I promise you that it will make a very nice present for Christmas and a super accessory for the cold months ahead.

I am using ribbing for the cap and the brim, but this is the perfect opportunity to take a sweater that you do not like and transform it into a winter hat. No fur? no problem use fleece instead.

Key Features:

- Elegant fur trim framing the face
- Perfect hat for a day on the snow, sky lodge hangout or a windy day
- Casual yet elegant
- Very easy on the making and the budget
- Upcycle an unloved sweater

Your pattern pieces come at the end of these instructions. For accurate printing, please make sure you are using the latest version of Adobe Reader. You can download the latest version here if you need to.

Select File → Print and the print dialogue box opens. Under Page Sizing and Handling, select ACTUAL SIZE . Check the preview in the right hand side illustration. Select the page numbers you want to print. You can print the whole document, or just the pattern pieces.

On the edge of the top left page is a box you can use to test your printing. This box should measure 2 inches square. If yours is wildly different you will need to check your printer options to make sure the pages are not being resized.

Use the grey guides on the overlap of the sheets to match up the pattern pieces, folding under or cutting off any overlaps, tape together and cut out your pattern pieces.

Also note that you will need to cut two straps at 4 inches by 22 inches, for which no pattern piece is supplied – it's just a rectangle! You can draw the straps on
