

The New Two-Piece

THE GOLDEN RULE FOR THE CASUAL TWO-PIECE IS: UPPER AND LOWER PART MUST REALLY BELONG TOGETHER. THIS MEANS THAT THEY SHOULD BE SEWN FROM THE SAME MATERIAL, OTHERWISE THE SMART LOOK SIMPLY DOES NOT APPEAR RIGHT. AS BASICS, BLAZERS AND TROUSERS CAN ALSO BE COMBINED WITH OTHER ITEMS FROM THE WARDROBE.

320-25 Blazer "Cora"

The double-breasted blazer is a classic that is now exceedingly popular in a new version. You are welcome to use colours other than black, striking, strong colours, but prints are also allowed. By the way, there is no need to wear a classic shirt or blouse for a casual look; simply combine it with a white T-shirt, for example. The casually cut blazer can and should actually be worn open.

320-26 Pleat-front trousers "Claire"

They are the unisex classic par excellence because they guarantee men and women a confident and slim appearance – due to the optical stretching through length and pleat. Oh yes, and they're also comfortable!

Cutting lining

Add a 3–4 cm wide back pleat for ease along the rear centre by placing the cutting piece 63 1.5 up to 2 cm away from the fabric fold. Cut the part only up to the facing line. Cut the pieces 61, 64, 65 and 66 like the outer fabric.

Instruction

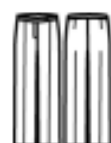

1. Iron Vlieseline on the facings and the hem allowances. Close the dividing seams on the front and the back parts. Clip the allowances along the curves and iron them. Close the side and shoulder seams.
2. Close the rear centre on both collars. Clip the allowances in the corners of the front parts up to the seam line and sew the lower collar along the neckline.
3. Lining: Stitch up the rear pleat for ease at the top, in the waist and at the hem for approx. 3 cm. Sew the lining parts and the facings together in the same way like the blazer. Sew the outer collar along the neckline of the rear facing.
4. Sew the long edge of the front part and the collar together continuously. Cut the corners of the collar back, resp. off and clip along the curve. Turn the facing including the lining inwards and iron it. Pin the seam allowances of the collar attachment seams on top of each other and sew them together.
5. Close the sleeve seams of the lining and the outer fabric, leaving an opening of approx. 20 cm in the lining. Gather the top shaping and sew in the sleeve.
6. Iron the hems of the outer fabric to the back. Sew the jacket hems of outer fabric and lining together. Fix the hems of the outer fabric in the side seams. Tip: Refer to model 10, point 7.
7. Pin the lining sleeve into the sleeve of the outer fabric. Pin the sleeve hems of outer fabric and lining seam on seam on top of each other, pull them below to the inside and sew them right side on right side together. Fix the sleeve hem in the seams.
8. Add the button holes in the overlap as illustrated in the cutting pattern. Sew the buttons on the underlap.

Instruction

1. Iron Vlieseline on the inner waistband and the front pocket mouth and let them cool off thoroughly. Close the rear darts.

2. Close the side seams right side on right side up to the slit marking of the pocket mouth and secure it. Elongate the stitch length to the maximum, continue sewing up to the second slit marking, then reduce the stitch length again, secure the seam and close the side seam completely. Sew both pocket bags according to the markings right side on right side close to the seam line on the allowances of front and back parts, not sewing on the allowances at the bottom of the pocket bag. Iron the allowances apart. Clip the allowance beneath the pocket mouth on the front part vertically. Iron both pocket bags inside the front part, pin them together and sew them. First, finish the pocket bags, then the side seams, and in doing so, also include one of the long edges of the pocket bag. Undo the stitches along the pocket mouth.
3. Close the pleats at the front part and sew them lengthwise approx. 2.5 cm. Iron the pleat up to the hem. Fix the upper edge of the pocket bag on the seam allowance of the trousers.
4. Close the front centre seam beneath the slit marking for a few centimetres. How to insert the zip: On the front part, iron over the slit facing on the right side along the fold, on the left side 5 mm towards the edge. Sew the zip under the underlap. Pin the front centre of the right front part on the front centre of the left front part. Sew the loose zip tape on the facing. Topstitch the overlap. Fold the slit facing lengthwise, right side inwards, and sew the lower edge. Turn the facing over and finish the long edge. Pin the slit facing right side on right side under the underlap and sew it on the seam of the zip. Pin the lower edge and sew it on the zip tape. Close the crotch seam and the inner leg seams. Press the pleat in the back part.
5. Sew the upper edges of the waistband right side on right side together. Pin the outer side of the waistband right side on right side along the trousers. Sew on the waistband, and continue sewing on the edge of the overlap resp. underlap and the narrow edges. Cut back the allowances in the corners and turn the outer side of the waistband to the inside. Topstitch the loose edge of the inner waistband from the right side in the seam shadow. Insert a buttonhole at the end of the underlap. Sew the button at the corresponding position opposite the buttonhole on the inner waistband at the overlap. Sew on the hook closure at the end of the waistband of the overlap. Hem the trousers with a blind stitch or by hand.
