The image displays two pattern pieces for a pair of knickers. The top piece is the front, and the bottom piece is the back. Both are designed to be cut on the bias from cotton lawn fabric. The front piece features a wide waistband with four vertical lines indicating where to fold or seam. The back piece also has a wide waistband with four vertical lines and a series of small circles along the lower edge, likely indicating where to place elastic or a drawstring. Both pieces have a curved side seam that tapers towards the leg opening. The leg opening is finished with a series of horizontal lines and small triangles, indicating where to fold or seam.
